2. Background to the National Research Foundation

The National Research Foundation (“NRF”) is a juristic person established in terms of Section 2 of the National Research Foundation Act, Act 23 of 1998, and a Schedule 3A Public Entity in terms of the Public Finance Management Act. The NRF is the government’s national agency responsible for promoting and supporting research and human capital development through funding, the provision of National Research Facilities and science outreach platforms and programs to the broader community in all fields of science and technology, including natural science, engineering, social science, and humanities.

3. Context in which the required procurement is needed/utilised

The DST-NRF Internship Programme was introduced in 2005, following a contractual agreement between the Department of Science and Technology (DST) and the National Research Foundation (NRF) to jointly implement and manage the programme. It serves as an enabling platform that provides accelerated work experience to unemployed Science, Engineering and Technology (SET) graduates, in a manner that builds critical occupational competencies required by the Science System. In addition, the programme also assists graduates who seek work exposure in research management, research support and administration through a partnership with Southern African Research & Innovation Management Association (SARIMA).

Successful graduates are placed at various institutions throughout the country for work experience under the guidance of experienced mentors. At the end of each internship year, interns are provided with a platform to showcase skills acquired through oral and poster presentations of projects they worked on while on the internship.
